

Case SCARBAN:

Keloid after trauma

1. Case study description

patient age	32 years
gender	female
cause	trauma right shoulder
why scar treatment	abnormal and excessive scar development (keloid)
start scar treatment	3 months after trauma therapy	SCARBAN Elastic, 1 year

2. Evolution of the scar

3. Conclusions medical team

- No pressure garments used
- Significantly reduced thickness after therapy
- Significantly reduced redness after therapy
- Continuation of the therapy is advised

4. Patient experience

- Improved overall appearance of the scar
- Scar-associated itching and pain disappeared
- SCARBAN Elastic is easy to use, comfortable and durable

Author: Dr F.B. Niessen, Department of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, VU Medical Center Amsterdam, the Netherlands Study conducted in cooperation with Dutch skin therapists